Akathist To The Tsar Great Martyr Nicholas Emperor Of All Russia

Written by Daniel
Stolypin

Kontakion 1

O passion bearer chosen from birth and incarnation of the love of Christ, * we sing thee praises as one who did love all the fatherland. * As thou hast boldness before the Lord, * enlighten our darkened minds and hearts that we may cry to thee: *

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer.

Ikos 1

The Creator of angels did send thee to the Russian land as an angel of meekness and instructor to thy people, as He did choose thee after the example of His Only Begotten Son to be a sacrifice of redemption for the sins of the people. And we, marveling at the Providence of the Almighty towards thee, cry out with contrition:

Rejoice, O likeness of Christ.

Rejoice, sacrifice of whole burnt offering.

Rejoice, adornment of the Tsar's of Russia.

Rejoice, thou who gavest an example of meekness and forgiveness to all.

Rejoice, true hope of the offended.

Rejoice, unshakable foundation of faith.

Kontakion 2

The All good Mother of God, seeing her chosen place, the Russian land, defiled by the abomination of corruption, chose thee from thy birth as a most pure one who would be for the cleansing of Russia, that all might as a funeral lamentation make a hymn to thee: Alleluia.

Ikos 2

The pre eternal Mind did fore know thy salvation and thy life, prefigured by Job the Much Suffering, joining thy birth and the memory of the righteous one. And we, recalling our sins and lawless deeds, with trembling of heart and contrition of soul cry out to thee thus:

Rejoice, thou who didst endure abuse and trials from thine own people.

Rejoice, thou who didst preserve the Faith to the end.

Rejoice, example of meekness.

Rejoice, guardian of the worship of God.

Rejoice, rule of humility.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer.

Kontakion 3

The power of the Most High did overshadow thee, O God crowned Nicholas, who didst fight back to enlighten the West in its false wisdom, that the world might cry out to God: Alleluia.

Ikos 3

Having fervor for the enlightenment of those gone astray, thou, O right believing Tsar, was zealous for the erection of churches, the glorification of the relics of the Saints who pleased God, the planting of Christian enlightenment, and the protection of the unfortunate against violence, and so the Christian world cried out to thee thus:

Rejoice, namesake of St. Nicholas upon the earth.

Rejoice, fellow intercessor with St. Seraphim in Heaven.

Rejoice, planter of Orthodoxy.

Rejoice, bearer of the Light of Christ.

Rejoice, teacher of Christian patience.

Rejoice, intercessor for Orthodox Christians.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer.

Kontakion 4

Thou didst not fear the storm of folly and abuse, O Passion bearer Nicholas, when thou didst renounce agreement with the enemies for the destruction of the fatherland; and thou didst endure censure, imprisonment, and death, crying to the Almighty: Alleluia.

Ikos 4

Hearing of the tumults of the Russian land and beholding the destruction of Christians, thou didst unceasingly pray, that the alleged Mother of God save Orthodox Russia. Wherefore, we cry out to thee:

Rejoice, fragrant incense of prayer.

Rejoice, admonisher of the violent by the meekness.

Rejoice, consoled of the disconsolate amid sorrows.

Rejoice, lover of heavenly things.

Kontakion 5

Thou hast been revealed as a God-guided star for Russians in the diaspora, O Tsar Nicholas; for, gathering them together in thy name, thou dost show the path to the rebirth of the Russian land, that we may hear angels crying out: Alleluia!

Ikos 5

Seeing that thy meekness and humility accomplished nothing, thou didst place all thy hope in the Most Pure Mother of God and give thyself entirely into the hands of the Almighty, that even the senseless might be instructed to sing to thee:

Rejoice, vanquisher of pride,

Rejoice, invincible rampart of the infirm.

Rejoice, enlightenment of the proud.

Rejoice, overflowing love for thy people.

Rejoice, fervent sacrifice for the Russian land.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God-crowned Tsar and great passion-bearer.

Kontakion 6

The ends of the world preach thy glory, and thy word hath gone forth into all the earth; for there is no sacrifice thou wouldst not have offered for the good of the Russian land, thereby teaching thy people to sing in thanksgiving to God: Alleluia.

Ikos 6

Thou didst shine forth greater than the sun for the Russian land, O Tsar Nicholas, revealing thine intercession for the Orthodox people even unto death, that all might be converted to Christ and hasten to thee. Therefore we hymn thee thus:

Rejoice, O light that hath come out of the East.

Rejoice, example to Orthodox kings.

Rejoice, unquenchable shining of righteousness.

Rejoice, unsetting luminary of meekness.

Rejoice, fatherly exhortation to sinners.

Rejoice, fervent glorification of the righteous.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God-crowned Tsar and great passion-bearer.

Kontakion 7

Wishing to strengthen Orthodox Faith on earth, thou didst move thy whole kingdom to the defense of the wronged land of Serbia, that all might cry out to God: Alleluia.

Ikos 7

The Lord did manifest thee as a new Noah, a builder of salvation for the Russian people, that all, remembering thy labors, might cry out ceaselessly thus:

Rejoice, helmsman of the Russian ship.

Rejoice, consoled of the Slavs in misfortunes.

Rejoice, guide of Russians.

Rejoice, proclaimer of the love of peace.

Rejoice, planter of Christian virtues.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer.

Kontakion 8

We see strange wonder in thee, O Nicholas, who many times wast saved by the right hand of the Most High and was crowned by a martyr's crown with thy children and kinsmen, that we might cry out to God the Provider of all things: Alleluia.

Ikos 8

Thou was entirely a defender for all Christians, O divinely chosen Nicholas, and didst show a double intercession for the Slavic peoples, moving them to sing to thee in praise:

Rejoice, defense of the offended.

Rejoice, exhortation to offenders.

Rejoice, refuge of the grieving.

Rejoice, intercessor for the persecuted.

Rejoice, intercessor for the persecuted.

Rejoice, peacemaker in thy life.

Rejoice, champion of Christians after thy murder.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer.

Kontakion 9

By many wonders did the Lord reveal His good will to the Russian people, until they did grieve

Him mightily; but being called by thee in repentance, we cry out together unto God: Alleluia.

Ikos 9

Eloquent orators, like voiceless fish, cannot express the height of thy patience; but we, beholding the abyss of our fall, cry out in contrition of spirit:

Rejoice, unvanquishable patience.

Rejoice, thou who didst give an example to the faithful in thy life and martyr's death.

Rejoice, thou who didst suffer for the sins of thy people.

Kontakion 10

Christ the Knower of hearts, Who founded His Church on the blood of martyrs, desiring to save all men, did place thee, O Passion-bearer Nicholas, as the foundation of the new house of the Russian realm, that all within it might cry out to God: Alleluia.

Ikos 10

Thou art a rampart for all who hasten to thee with faith, and an inextinguishable protection for the Orthodox world, and thou dost teach all the faithful to glorify thee thus:

Rejoice, manifestation of heavenly things on earth.

Rejoice, new strength for those grown faint in virtues.

Rejoice, dawn that hath shone forth on the land of Russia.

Rejoice, river that doth nourish all her boundaries.

Rejoice, teacher of the humility of wisdom.

Rejoice, planter of faith and love.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer

Kontakion 11

Offering a hymn to the Most Holy Trinity even unto thy death, thou didst finish thy course and keep the Faith, by which thou dost move all Orthodox Christians to sing: Alleluia.

Ikos 11

Thou wast sent by the Giver of Light to the Russian land like an immaculate lamb, and thou didst lay down thy life for the redemption of our sins, that we all might ceaselessly glorify thee thus:

Rejoice, sacrifice beloved of God.

Rejoice, unquenchable abundance of love.

Rejoice, praise of the faithfulness of Christ.

Rejoice, invisible blowing of the Spirit.

Rejoice, mirror of wisdom.

Rejoice, hope of the hopeless.

Rejoice, O Nicholas, God crowned Tsar and great passion bearer.

Kontakion 12

Divine grace which health the infirm did fore know thee as an imperishable healing for thy subjects who cry out to God: Alleluia.

Ikos 12

Hymning thy sufferings, O Passion-bearer Nicholas, we bow down before thy patience, for the power of the Almighty Trinity was manifest in thee, that we might all with one accord cry out:

Rejoice, beloved child of Christ.

Rejoice, thou who didst conduct thine immaculate children and faithful servants to Christ.

Rejoice, thou who didst aid the Queen to be righteous and a martyr.

Rejoice, thou who didst truly direct thy people.

Rejoice, thou who didst not bring abuse to the honor of thy fatherland.

Rejoice, thou who didst gain the Kingdom of Heaven.

Kontakion 13

O most wondrous and most glorious Passion-bearer Nicholas, look down upon thy earthly kingdom and thy people, for we have no answer for our sins, and entreat the Almighty that He may not enter into judgment with us, but might vouchsafe us ceaselessly to cry out: Alleluia {three times}.
